

METAL is an all-inclusive design and fabrication studio.

We provide our clients, including architects, builders, designers and their clientele, with skillful designs and metalwork. We produce objects through both traditional and digital processes. Items, artful and utilitarian, have been expertly created for commercial, residential, municipal, hospitality and retail venues.

From idea to actualization METAL builds relationships as well as enduring artifacts and emphasizes communication with collaborators and clients. Our custom metal shop has the skill to provide everything from complex mechanized designs to classic restoration services. We relish the fact that we have many a returning client.

Utilizing quality materials we cast, forge, fabricate and otherwise produce metal objects making every effort to minimize our footprint in an industry where the greatest sustainability hails from the longevity of the material itself.

“METAL is an alchemy of intentions: hub of exchange, fabrication shop, gallery of repurposed, salvaged, and artful items; an arena for problem solving and expression – it becomes what we who enter it are. It suits us, John and I, and we suit it. Because of the malleability of matter it evolves as we do. It advances as our experience does.”
